We are a UNICEF Rights Respecting

School

UNICEF provides awards for schools that respect the rights of children. Here at Gracelands Nursey School we have already achieved both the Bronze and Silver award and are now working towards our Gold award.

The 'Rights Respecting Schools' Gold Award (RRSA) show our embedded practice in helping our children at Gracelands grow into caring, confident and responsible young citizens both in school and also within the wider community. It will demonstrate our commitment over time to ensure all children understand their rights. By learning about their rights our children also learn the importance of respecting the rights of others.

RRSA gives children the opportunity to be:

Confident
Caring
